ARMISTICE TEAMS WORK ON FINAL DETAILS

New Bridge Dedicated As Lisbon Begins Its Sesqui Celebration

LISBON — A few scattered showers and threatening weather failed to dampen the spirits of an estimated crowd of 8,000 that jammed the county seat for the start of the village's Sesquicentennial Saturday.

About 3,000 stood in the rain to hear Gov. Frank J. Lausche speak at the dedication of the new Canton Bridge and another 2,500 witnessed the drum and bugle corps contest in the evening, the two high points of the opening day.

Sunday the village paused for "Religious Heritage Day" as churches held special services in the morning.

Some 1,000 attended the community church services held Sunday night at the fairgrounds when Dr. Will W. Orr, president of Westminster College, spoke.

A veterans and merchants parade is slated tonight at 8 with a veterans program to be presented before the first performance of the historical pageant at the Fairgrounds.

Celebration officials termed Saturday's opening highly successful despite the weather.

It also marked the start of the county's 150th birthday as visitors of all communities milled around the village all day.

The inaugural day got off to a flying start in the morning with registration of old timers and guests and a muzzle-loader rifle shoot at the Fairgrounds.

Some 67 marksmen from a radius of 100 miles took part.

The official opening of the eight-day birthday party came at 2:30 p.m. with the dedication of the new Route 30 span crossing Little Beaver Creek at the western end of the village.

It followed ceremonies at the East Liverpool - Wellsville new "super highway" and a luncheon at the Salem Golf Club for Gov. Lausche, state and Sesqui officials and guests. Some 70 attended the affair.

Prior to cutting of the ribbon on the bridge, Gov. Lausche gave a short address from the nearby home of Robert Kelch.

Lausche told the rain-soaked crowd "the bridge is no gift from the state or county but is a gift from the people whose composite wisdom and industry comprise the strength of our free government."

He declared the new span is a product of man and soul and ingenuity of American people living in a free system of government.

The governor said the structure is a result of friendly relations between the working man, businessmen and manufacturers.

He extended an official welcome as governor and as a citizen and said such affairs are important to the relations of our form of life and system of government.

He concluded by extending "good luck and best wishes for a fine celebration" and added "Long live Lisbon, Columbiana County, our state and country."

He was introduced by County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge, county Sesqui chairman, who also presented Gov. Lausche with the "traditional key."

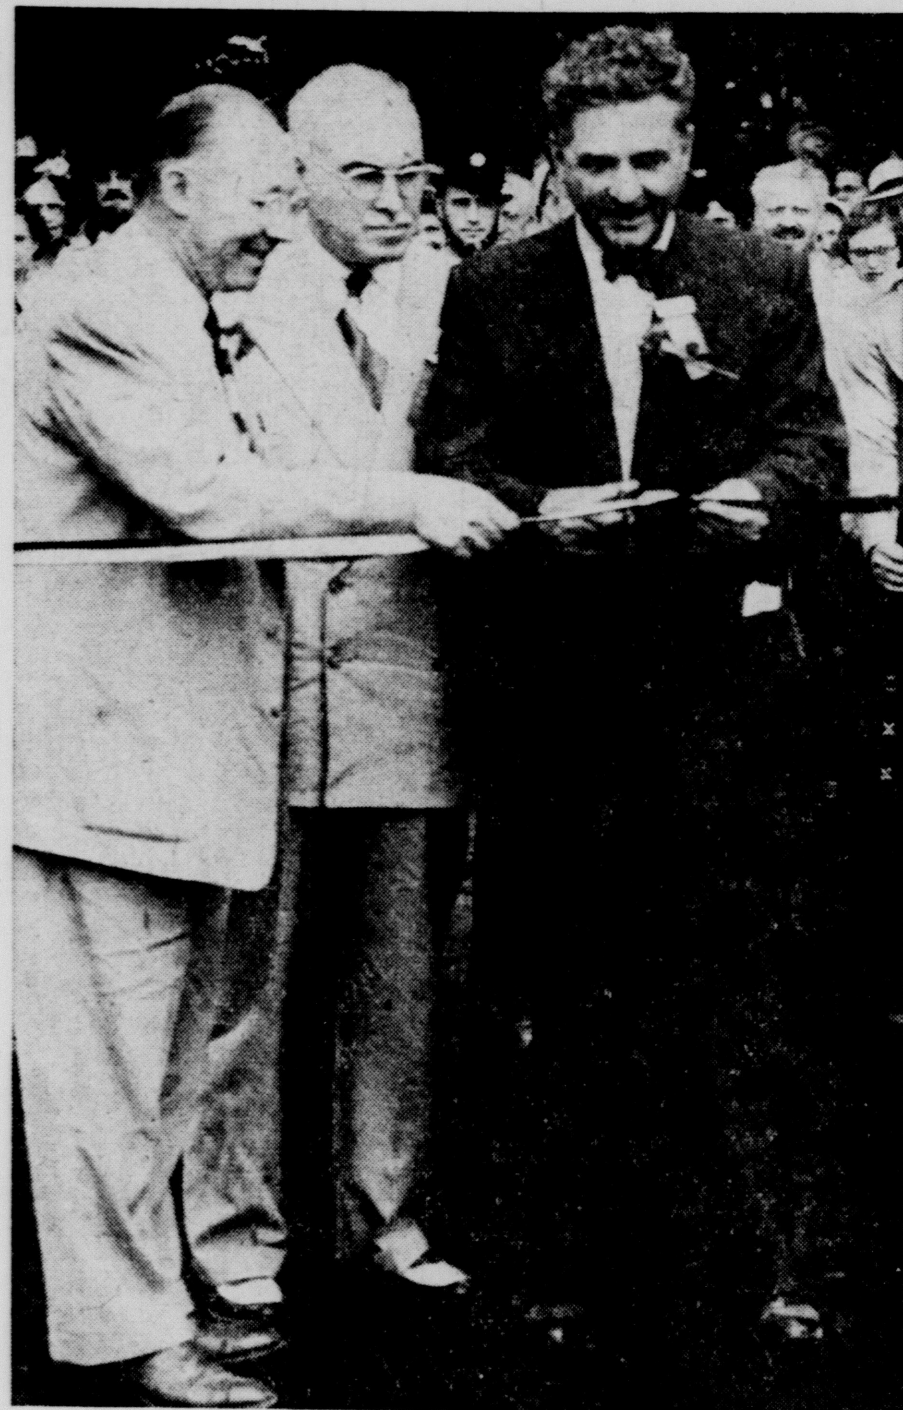

The program opened with a welcome speech by Mayor Wilbur Warren of Lisbon, who declared the celebration officially under way. Lester Prebble, dressed in his President Lincoln outfit he will wear in the pageant, and two young Negro girls, Sandra Williams, 11, and Carmen Gibson, 8, presented red carnations, the state flower, to Gov. Lausche and other guests on the porch.

Graham (Pat) Kearvey, who was in charge of the dedication program, was master of ceremonies.

The party then left the porch for the cutting of the ribbon.

Just as State Highway Director S. O. Linzell handed Gov. Lausche the shears to cut the black and

Some Observers See Signing Within Week; More Meetings Set

PANMUNJOM (P)—Teams of Allied and Communist officers—including for the first time the men who would oversee a cease-fire—worked in nine secret sessions today on the final details of a Korean armistice.

Two staff officer sessions were set for 10 a. m. Tuesday (8 p. m. Monday, EST).

The Reds, meanwhile, put the finishing touches on a large hut to be used for signing the historic document which would end the three years of fighting.

There was no official indication just when the armistice would be signed, but some observers said it could be within a week. Fighting would end 12 hours after the signing.

A month-long deadlock in the negotiations was broken with a Communist announcement Sunday that the Reds were ready to prepare for the signing.

Three U. S. members of the military armistice commission flew here unexpectedly for the first time and met for 1 hour, 50 minutes with Communist members of the commission.

The commission, composed of top officers from the opposing armies, would control the buffer zone between the two forces.

The Red and Allied commission members discussed "suggested arrangements which they (the Reds) will consider and probably come back with their proposal," said Navy Capt. B. M. Coleman, McLean, Va., one of the U. S. members. Another meeting was planned but no time was given.

The speeded tempo of Monday's sessions—running from 10 a. m. to 8:05 p.m. (6:05 a.m. EST)—heightened optimism for an early signing.

The main truce delegations presumably are awaiting a call from the lower level staff officers to set a date for the signing.

Peace Is Quickened

Both sides quickened the pace toward a truce signing in the wake of the sudden Communist announcement yesterday that they were ready to go ahead with final preparations in return for Allied assurance that South Korea would abide by a cease-fire.

But South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai hinted more opposition from Syngman Rhee's government might be in the wind. He said the Communist agreement contained "many traps."

He said it showed the Reds intend to take "all South Korea by subversive activity and by liquidating the Army which we have built so painstakingly and with so much expense."

An unnamed Republic of Korea spokesman said Allied assurances meant the U.N. "had lost the war."

In other developments:

1. The Peiping radio announced that Czechoslovakian and Polish delegates who would serve on a four-nation Armistice Supervisory Commission arrived in the Red China capital. The Swedish and Swiss delegates already are in Tokyo.

2. The Reds sent 200 North Korean and Chinese troops to resume work on the "signing building" at Panmunjom. Construction was suspended after Rhee freed 27,000 anti-Red North Korean prisoners from Allied camps. Communist

Chinese Take 2 Allied Posts

6,290 Reds Are Killed Across Front Sunday

SEOUL (P)—Recklessly-attacking Chinese engulfed two vital Western Front outposts defended by U. S. Marines last night and the first Leatherneck survivors staggered back to Allied lines today.

In their last act before their radio went dead, the trapped Marines—back in the battlelines only three weeks—called in their own artillery on top of them in a desperate effort to halt the violent onslaught.

The number of Marines in the battle was not immediately released.

Fourteen Leathernecks of the 1st Marine Division, were the first known survivors of the bloody battles for Outposts East Berlin and Berlin, part of a key hill area on the Western Front.

Fatigued and wan, they staggered back into Marine lines. Eight were from Outpost Berlin and six from East Berlin.

How they got out was not learned immediately.

It was assumed they worked their way down the bloodied slopes after the Reds left the hill during daylight.

They said more Marines may still be alive in the battered bunkers and shell-ripped trenches on the outposts.

The survivors described the hills as a battle-torn no man's land. They said no Chinese were left atop the outposts, which were plastered by savage Red and Allied artillery fire during the 1,500-man Red assault.

Allied fighter-bombers and Marine guns pounded the hills relentlessly, but there was no immediate move to retake them.

The Fifth Air Force said its planes—taking advantage of hot, clear weather—slammed 500,000 pounds of bombs at Communist frontlines from the Berlin outposts to the Kumsong Front in the East.

Sabre jets in their dual role as fighter-bombers, Australian meteor jets, and Marine planes pummeled other Red targets deep in North Korea.

Meanwhile, the 8th Army said the Communists lost 6,290 killed and 1,250 wounded across the front Sunday mostly on the turbulent East-Central Front, where the Reds last week hurled their biggest offensive in two years. The figure may have included some delayed reports.

A thunderous artillery barrage heralded the Reds' reckless assault on East Berlin and Berlin even as Communist and Allied truce teams met at Panmunjom to the southwest in an effort to sweep aside last barriers to a cease-fire.

Two reinforced Chinese battalions—about 750 men each—

Two Slightly Hurt In Traffic Mishap

LISBON — Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman reported a Kensington man and his infant granddaughter received minor injuries in one of two accidents reported by the sheriff's office over the weekend.

Hartman said Loren Reeder and his granddaughter, the daughter of Mrs. Sharon Greene of Kensington, were treated at the Minerva Clinic for minor lacerations when his car swerved out of control and went into a ditch Saturday afternoon on Route 30 near Bayard.

Mrs. Greene was not hurt. In the other accident cars operated by Harold Buchanan of RD 1, Negley and William Bader of Pittsburgh collided Sunday morning at 11 on Route 30 near Lisbon. Only minor damage was reported to the cars.

273 Persons Die In Japan Floods

2,033 Are Reported Missing In Disaster

TOKYO (P)—Thousands of Japanese were rescued today from debris-littered floodwaters as ground, sea and aid teams worked feverishly to cut the human toll in the nation's second great flood disaster in three weeks.

The sudden flood that started with cloudburst rains last Friday swallowed whole villages at Wakayama on central Honshu Island's Pacific coast about 200 miles southwest of Tokyo.

National police headquarters here re-estimated the toll at 273 dead, 433 injured and 2,033 missing.

Earlier, police said more than 6,000 were dead or missing, but a spokesman reported later those totals listed many duplications caused by chaotic communications.

More than 2,000 persons stranded on rooftops or trapped in flooded homes were plucked to safety by rescue teams searching the swirling waters.

U. S. Air Force planes crisscrossed the flood scene, dropping tons of food to stranded persons, while Japanese ships and ground forces scoured the area for survivors.

The rains stopped Sunday after two days of cloudbursts sent three mountain streams thundering down narrow valleys.

Flash floods hit valley villages—some before sleeping residents could flee.

Although skies began to clear and the rivers to recede on central Honshu, new rains hit in the Tokyo area and the rivers there rose steadily.

Thousands worked during the night to plug gaps at river dikes with sandbags.

Notice to all Lions There will be no meetings whatsoever this week due to vacations. Ad.

Duke Of Westminster, One Of World's Richest Men, Dies

LOCH MORE, Scotland (P)—The Duke of Westminster, landlord of the American Embassy in London and one of the world's richest men, died last night at his estate here. He was 74.

The peer, four times married and three times divorced, owned vast estates in Scotland, Wales and England, as well as about 600 acres of London's expensive Mayfair and Chelsea neighborhoods.

Only this year he bought an island in the Fraser River in British Columbia and launched an industrial development project estimated to cost 63 million pounds ($176,400,000).

His London holdings alone were valued at 20 million pounds ($56 million dollars) before World War II, and land values have increased greatly since then.

One of his biggest real estate deals was the letting of a long lease on part of Grosvenor Square—London's "Little America"—to the American government.

In the square are the embassy and other U. S. government buildings. The price of this deal never was made public but one report estimated it at not less than a million pounds ($2,800,000).

Born Hugh Richard Arthur Grosvenor, he was the second Duke of Westminster, the 11th baronet in a line going back to 1622, and also the Marquess of Westminster, Earl Grosvenor, Viscount Belgrave and Baron Grosvenor.

He succeeded his grandfather, the first duke, in 1899. He leaves no son and the title now passes to his cousin, William Grosvenor, a 59-year-old invalid.

Westminster was one of the last British aristocrats to live in the grand style. His recreations were horse racing, fishing, yachting, shooting and hunting. Once he took 20 hounds and 20 horses to France for a boar hunt.

7 Injured In Road Crashes

East Palestine Man Has Skull Fracture

Seven persons received injuries in three of four auto mishaps investigated by State Highway Patrolmen over the weekend.

A 28-year-old East Palestine man is in City Hospital today with a fractured skull he sustained in a mishap on county road 437, north end of East Palestine, at 2:15 p.m. Saturday.

Patrolmen said the man, Raymond Rauch, was driving a pickup truck east on the road when he apparently lost control, veered across the road and into a field where the truck rolled over.

Two passengers also sustained injuries, but did not require hospital treatment. Patrolmen said Thomas Rauch, 26, who received lacerations of the arm, and Russell Manly, 27, who sustained lacerations of the left ear, were treated by a physician. Both are from East Palestine.

Rauch is reported in good condition at the hospital.

Lausche Tours Millville Hill

Says By-Pass Planned For Dangerous Route

Governor Frank J. Lausche and other state and city officials, made a personal survey of the Millville Hill Saturday.

Immediately after the bridge dedication ceremonies in Lisbon were concluded Saturday afternoon, the governor, accompanied by Representative Delmar T. O'Hara, Highway Director S. O. Linzell, Chief Engineer of Bridges, Richard Orth, and Councilmen Fred Koenreich and Michael Schuller, went to the hill in a car driven by Tom Grafton of Wellsville.

Councilman Schuller reported the following actions and conversations during the survey:

"The governor informed the group he had been in Youngstown the previous Sunday and had taken an airplane trip over the area.

"He remarked that he saw trucks tie up the line of cars and noted that trouble was caused when some drivers attempted to go around the trucks.

"During the trip to the hill, a stop was made at the Millville bridge and some time was spent observing the habits of motorists. Here again the governor commented on the number of drivers who crossed the yellow line or travelled at speeds too great for safety.

"Director Linzell and the governor stated that plans are now in process and a route is being staked out which will give a permanent remedy to the Millville Hill situation. This will be in the form of a by-pass from the area east of Salem, then heading to the north where it will meet the main roads.

"For this reason they do not feel that it is advisable to spend funds on a temporary, makeshift correction.

"It was generally agreed that a third lane would not afford any improvement; in part it was felt that this might even intensify the problem and would not be considered as part of the final solution.

"Before any action on highway changes can be taken, the proposal must be submitted to the Ohio Highway Planning Survey, a council headed by Frank J. Murphy. After the group decides the proper place for the recommendation, it will then determine the priority to be assigned it.

"Both Governor Lausche and Director Linzell said they are aware of the need for correction at this point but that the improvement must take its normal place in the state highway building program.

"The trip was arranged by Representative O'Hara of Wellsville and T. Emerson Smith of Salem. Representative O'Hara conducted the group over the area inspected."

Cleveland Stadium Office Burglarized

CLEVELAND (P)—Four masked bandits tied up a guard, blew open a safe in a concessionaire's office at Cleveland Stadium last night and escaped with an estimated $40,000.

Friedlander, stadium manager for the Berlo Vending Co. of Philadelphia. Police theorized the bandits stayed in the stadium after yesterday's games.

Senators May Fight Air Force Funds Cut

WASHINGTON — Some senators talked today of staging an admittedly futile fight on the Senate floor for some of the five billions cut from new Air Force funds by the Eisenhower administration. "We know we can't win it but if we make a good showing we may prevent the additional reductions voted by the House," said one senator who refused quotation by name.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, with President Eisenhower's public backing, has won every round in the congressional battle over the reduction in funds and size of the Air Force, from the budget recommendations of ex-President Truman, money bill, carrying funds for the Air Force, Army and Navy, is scheduled for Senate action.

JERSEY CITY, N. J. — The A. J. Andersons have a patio built atop their garage roof and were using it quietly yesterday when a fireman poked his head over the edge of the roof.

The head disappeared.

Chinese Nationalists Charged With Seizure

HONG KONG — Capt. Antonio Marques, whose steamship Nidar fell into the hands of the Chinese Nationalists last December, claimed today his ship was seized by a Nationalist warship on the high seas.

Chiang Kai-shek's Marine Department and Foreign Office, he said, announced "later that the 2,760-ton Nidar had been pirated by its crew and taken to Formosa."

Marques, in a signed article in the Hong Kong Standard, denied this and asserted that Nidar actually was intercepted on Dec. 17 by a Nationalist gunboat and forced to proceed to Kaohsiung, south Formosa.

The Nidar flew the Panama flag and was owned by the British-Norwegian firm, Wallem and Company of Hong Kong.

It had 2,000 tons of scrap iron aboard consigned to Japanese ports.

Chiang's government later charged that the Nidar, under a previous captain, had engaged in trade with Red China. The Nationalists therefore claimed the ship and on June 9 ran up the Chinese Nationalist flag.

Dems Threaten Debt Limit Plan

Opponents Plan Fight Against Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration comes to a financial crossroads today, its evident plans to lift the federal debt limit threatened by Democratic opposition.

In advance of a meeting of GOP leaders with President Eisenhower to discuss the situation, Sen. George (D-Ga.) said he might not go along on an expected proposal to raise the present 275 billion dollar ceiling.

"There will be some opposition to increasing the debt limit, mainly on the ground that the only way to cut spending is to keep the present limit," George said.

He added that he personally remains to be convinced that the action has to be taken now despite the narrow margin by which the present debt comes below the statutory limit.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee said he hasn't polled the group and doesn't know how it will stand on the issue.

Without mentioning the likelihood of having to seek a raise in the debt limit, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey predicted yesterday that bigger business earnings and higher national income will lift government receipts to a second successive peak in the year which started July 1.

Federal revenue, Humphrey said, should climb to 68½ billion dollars compared with the record $65,200,000,000 in the year which ended June 30. Nevertheless, he added, "continued vigorous cooperative effort . . . will be required to reduce expenditures to the point where we will obtain a balance between receipts of expenditures."

Humphrey blamed spending programs inherited from the Truman administration for the grim fiscal picture.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), in a weekend statement, estimated that government income next year would be about 64 billions—or 4½ billions less than the Humphrey estimate. He put probable spending at 74 billions and said Congress will have to raise taxes next year or face a deficit of about 10 billion dollars.

Monroney Lashes McCarthy Plan To Probe CIA Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) proposed today that the Senate arm itself with authority to force a quick halt to investigations undertaken by its committees.

Monroney, ready to introduce an amendment to the rules at the start of today's Senate session, said his proposal was prompted by the activities of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his Senate investigations subcommittee.

"His committee is the one causing the greatest amount of criticism to be heaped on the Senate," said Monroney, who last week took the Senate floor to assail McCarthy's avowed intention to subpoenaing officials of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Monroney said the projected probe of the supersecret intelligence agency was "the straw that broke the camel's back" and led him to draw up a proposed change in the Senate's rules.

Under his proposal, the Senate by majority vote could halt investigations by its committees just as it can now discharge committees from further consideration of legislation.

Monroney noted that discharge resolutions have a privileged status and can be brought up for a vote the day after they are filed.

He said the effect of his proposed rule would be "to put direct responsibility on the Senate" for the investigations of its committees. He said he regarded this as necessary in view of the sharp criticism some of them have aroused.

The proposed amendment to the rules, before becoming effective, would have to clear the Rules Committee headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) and then win the approval of the Senate itself.

Verbal sparring continued, meanwhile, between McCarthy and the three Democrats who resigned from his subcommittee July 10 in a revolt against what they called one-man rule. The GOP majority had voted to give McCarthy sole power to hire and fire staff members.

McCarthy last week wrote each of the Democrats saying, "The door is open for your return." In separate letters made public Saturday night, the Democrats—Senators McClellan of Arkansas, Symington of Missouri and Henry Jackson of Washington—wrote him they had seen nothing to indicate any change of attitude on his part that would justify them in rejoining the subcommittee.

McCarthy, on an NBC television program yesterday, said the Democrats had raised a "phony issue" and actually feared their political futures would be jeopardized if they had a hand in what he termed corruption in the Truman administration.

"The better job the committee does the more abuse we will have to take," McCarthy said.

Symington fired back a statement: "Most of Sen. McCarthy's recent investigations and plans for investigation had to do with matters concerning the Eisenhower administration. If my concept of politics followed those of Sen. McCarthy for partisan, political exploitation there would be good reason for my remaining on the committee."

Jackson commented in a statement: "As for graft and corruption, it's interesting to note that the chairman has failed to initiate investigations in his direction."

McClellan said the only issue was whether McCarthy should have sole power to hire and fire staff workers.

McCarthy's all-Republican subcommittee deferred any attempt to

Texas Drought Still Severe Despite Rains

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Hit and-miss heavy rains have caused flash floods in Texas during the past week. Yet a federal soil expert says the state's worst drought is unbroken.

A similar situation was reported in Oklahoma—good rains, but not enough.

Louis P. Merrill of Fort Worth, U. S. Soil Conservation Service regional director, said today locally torrential downpours have been "immensely helpful." But he said it will take more general rains over a longer period to end the drought—in its fourth year in parts of Texas.

Some of the heaviest downpours yesterday drenched parts of west Texas, declared a drought disaster area and eligible for emergency federal help.

But the thunderstorms were spotty.

Merrill said he doubted whether more than 15 or 20 of 152 drought disaster counties in west, north and south Texas have had rain.

The soil expert said, however, recent rains have greatly helped cotton, feed crops and ranges and have filled dry stock watering ponds.

Light scattered sprinkles which started June 30 developed a week ago into frequently heavy thunderstorms in west, north and east Texas.

The Canadian River was running bankfull in the Texas Panhandle. Yesterday's big rains in drought-hurt west Texas included 4.80 inches at Wellington, 5.6 at Pampa, 5 at Jericho and 3.74 at Lefors. But Amarillo, in the center of the Panhandle, received a piddling .04 inch.

Friday and Saturday thunderstorms caused serious flood threats at Fort Worth, Fort Davis, Abilene

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Nepal's Prime Minister M. P. Koirala conferred here today with Indian officials on a "joint police action" against Communist-led rebels in his Himalayan country.

Arriving by plane yesterday from Katmandu for a three-day visit, Koirala said the irregulars no longer had a free hand to operate in isolated western Nepal because Indian police had stepped in and India had allowed Nepalese troops to cross her territory to corner the bands.

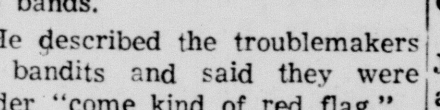

He described the troublemakers as bandits and said they were under "some kind of red flag."

The Nepalese Embassy announced yesterday that armed rebels marching on southwest Nepal's important town of Dhangarhi had been routed and the situation was under control.

A Time For Quitting

Air-conditioning in Washington never will change one thing which occurs about this time every year — a widespread conviction that congressmen would be better off at home.

The congressmen believe this and so do their constituents. They reach approximately the same conclusion at approximately the same time—that there is a time for quitting and that it has been reached.

Consequently, August has become the favorite month for adjournment of the first sessions of new congresses. It will be the favorite month for adjournment of the first session of the 83rd Congress.

There is a special significance this in the shared conviction about a time for quitting.
Congressmen and their constituents are aware of a condition which makes it impossible for them to agree.

The Eisenhower administration is being frank about its needs for a breathing spell which has not been possible while its members were learning how to keep from backing into the buzz-saw of congressional opposition.

Congressmen, on the other hand, want to get back home where they can put their ears to the ground and reach conclusions about this strange administration which seems so far to have only one cardinal principle—not to fight with Congress. They want to know how their constituents feel about it.

There is something the constituents want to know, too—whether their representatives and senators understand why the folk back home are not disturbed by Dwight Eisenhower's ineptness as a tactical politician.

One of the things that nearly 34 million Americans liked better about him than they liked about Stevenson last voting day was the fact Eisenhower never had been associated with bread-and-butter politics.

Bread-and-butter politicians stand to profit
by remembering that they have nothing to gain
by demonstrating how much smarter they are at their favorite game than the man who aspired to lift the government of his country to a higher level of operation.

The American people had enough slick politician from Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman to last a lifetime.

Sen. McCarthy Agreed

Since we recently commended David Lawrence for his excellent Washington reporting,
we feel we have earned the right to take exception to a conclusion he reached the other day about Sen. Monroney's views on congressional investigations.

Lawrence concluded that the senator from Oklahoma, a "liberal," had made the common mistake of so many "liberals" by wanting to curb the rights of persons in disagreement with liberal views.

The columnist based this judgment on a speech made by Monroney in the Senate on June 13 which questioned the right of congressional investigators under Sen. McCarthy to probe into the Central Intelligence Agency, a matter that would better be left to the FBI.
Lawrence deduced from his that Monroney was in favor of substituting the FBI for other congressional investigators.

Mr. Lawrence could not have deduced this had he read the Monroney speech. He was talking specifically about a threatened investigation of Central Intelligence Agency by Sen.
McCarthy.

Monroney pointed out that this agency was so sensitive that even the size of its budget was kept secret. Its employees had been investigated exhaustively by the FBI. President Eisenhower himself, was responsible for their loyalty. Under these circumstances, Monroney argued, it would be foolhardy to throw open the CIA to a congressional investigation.

Sen. McCarthy subsequently agreed. It was arranged for him to learn what he wanted to know without violating CIA secrecy.

In Humid Humility

On the last week of July, the Cleveland
Browns will be practicing football in preparation for the 1953 season.

A month later, they will be battering opponents in games of regulation length and savagery. It is something to think about.

The chances are, spring housecleaning never was finished in your house; that the lawn you were going to have this year if it killed you did not ever threaten your life; that the exterior improvements you were going to make on your dwelling place have not been started.

If you are like other people, football players excepted, you have not begun to think about wild geese honking, frosted pumpkins, falling leaves, doing your Christmas shopping early and a new snow shovel. You are lying comfortably under a bush, in your imagination,
quaffing long, cool drinks and being humbly
humble about the state of man in a heat wave.

Well, it's almost time to put on shoulder pads and uphold the glory of Siwash — to get in there and fight — to hit that line. Just turn the fan around and blow some this way, coach.

U. S. Debt Growing

But Income Is Increasing Also

Are Americans borrowing too much too fast?

This question is attracting increasing attention as the result of the fact that our total debt —
government business and individuals combined — showed another big increase to a record high in 1952, and is still going up all along the line.

Current estimates indicate that the gross debt of the economy rose by nearly $40 billion more last year to reach a total of about $640 billion at the year end. This figure is about $175 billion or nearly 40 per cent, greater than the total of gross debt at the end of World War II in 1945 and almost three times the aggregate owed in 1940.

The big expansion since the war has been in private debt. Gross borrowings of business and individuals combined more than doubled in this period, rising from $155 billion in 1945 to an estimated $330 billion at the end of last year.
Of this total, individual and non-corporate debt together showed a greater rate of increase than did corporate debt, moving up from $55.5 billion in 1945 to about $137 billion at the end of 1952—a rise of nearly 150 per cent.

Home-mortgage debt and consumer credit led the debt increase in rate of expansion in the period.

Rising debt is a normal accompaniment of expanding business activity, and plays a vital role in a high-production, high consumption economy like ours. However,
a volume of debt of the present
size, amounting to the equivalent of some $4,000 for every person in the population, would seem to call for caution.

Besides, more observers are referring to the length of the boom
and the heights it has reached,
the question of whether some readjustment is in the offing, and the growing strain on the money and capital markets to supply the increasing demands for funds of the federal government as well as of state and local governments, business and individuals.

Then, too, averages do not show
where, and at what income levels,
the major portion of the debt is owed.

In view of this, therefore, the recent uptrend in interest rates,
small though it may be by past standards, is a constructive development.

In addition to providing a long-needed incentive for the saver, it tends to make business and individual borrowers think twice before taking on new debt commitments.

The question of when debt in general becomes too burdensome,
and just where the danger point lies, has never had a ready answer except in hindsight, because debt-bearing factors change with the economic atmosphere.

Right now, when judged by such factors as the rate of growth in debt in relation to national income, the position of debtors as a whole compares favorably with all previous periods except the abnormal World War II years.

For the 1940-52 period, for example, the total gross debt has shown an increase of about 195 per cent, based on the U. S. Department of Commerce debt series.
National income, on the other hand, rose about 257 per cent in the period.

For the period from 1945 to date,
national income has increased almost 60 per cent as against less than 40 per cent in the total gross debt. The total of debt last year was about 2.2 times the national income for the year as against a 1940 ratio of approximately 2.7 times.

Thus economic activity has grown more than debt for the 1940-52 period.

It is likewise significant to compare the trend of private debt
along with the annual gross savings of business and individuals combined. The figures show that only in 1947 did the growth of debt exceed the year's savings in the private sector of the economy.

Last year the margin was about two to one in favor of savings, one of the best showings of the post-World War II period.

Furthermore, in contrast with a generation ago, there are two additional factors today with a favorable bearing on debt. The first is the amortization principle, which is an inherent part of all home-mortage debt and is found in other parts of the private-debt structure
as well.

Debt repayment on home mortages alone is now estimated at about $3 billion a year, and represents an important personal savings as well as debt-reduction item. Most consumer debt is on a regular repayment basis also.

The second important factor is the growth of credit life insurance, which covers borrowers for the amount of unpaid loan balances.
This type of life insurance provides added protection for the family's thrift program in case of the death of the borrower.

Four-Deckers

By TRUMAN TWILL

Everybody has to live somewhere, so interest in housing goes on forever.

Except for the grossly underprivileged who live in shacks and cubicles by necessity, Americans are suckers for styles in housing.

Right now, ranch houses are in style. Much is claimed in their behalf that formerly was claimed in behalf of other styles of housing which later became unstylish.

One style in particular went out of fashion with a thud, though it swept the country like a flu epidemic just before the era of the bungalow, after World War I.

Its aftermath may be viewed by the hundreds on any middle-class
street in any typical community.
It is two full stories high with a half-story attic and a full basement. It is square or rectangular, with a porch across the front, a porch on the back, and perhaps an L added to one side.

Its design was strictly utilitarian,
even to the use of high windows in the living room so there would be room for an upright piano underneath.

The bathroom on the second floor is roughly equivalent in size to a bed room in one of the new-style houses, and the kitchen is the size of a streamlined living room.

There is a place for everything—
people, pets, furniture, appliances,
overnight guests, clothing storage,
food storage, blanket storage, linen storage, air to breathe and room to stretch in.

And in a pinch, a fellow who wants to get away from it all can mope off to the attic or the basement and sit on an upturned box
until life becomes bearable.

Of course, the newer houses are nicer. They have more chromium, more glass, more tile, more light-colored woodwork. But they have less space and in the long run they will have fewer conveniences.

Ultimately, what people look for in housing is not design, which is subject to endless change, but cubic content. And when cubic content gets into the discussion only in relation to what it costs to heat
it in wintertime, the must-be-had of American standard of living is approaching the vanishing point.

There is another thing about those four-layer square houses that commanded them to their users.
They were laced over with plenty of gingerbread, most of it fairly ugly. But it, too, had logic behind it, because a new set of gingerbread was the equivalent of a new house.

Like everybody else, I'd like to have a crack at living in one of those new ranch houses, with this thought in mind. They, too, will go out of style. And when it's all said and done, there may never be a more practicable kind of house than those old four-deckers which most of us grew up in, from the basement to the attic, from back porch to front porch and everywhere in between.

He used this stick to pick up every scrap
of printed paper, which he put in a bag.
What he did
with these useless scraps of paper, plucked
out of the filth
of the streets, I do not know.

They were probably put in book cemetaries of which there are many in Asia. In such a country as China, perhaps they are eaten
by mice and rats.

The Genizah of Cairo and other book cemetaries in Egypt and Asia Minor have proved very valuable,
particularly as regards the Bible and the writings of the early Christians.

Dr. Solomon Schechter, late president of the Jewish Theological Seminary, achieved an outstanding reputation for his work among these rescued manuscripts.

OF COURSE, in those ancient days, books were written on parchment, papyrus, and even leather.
Some of the manuscripts of parts of the Bible recently found in a cave in Jordan are on leather.

Books were few, written slowly and thoughtfully, and their reproduction was laborious and a task of love.

In recent years, books rain upon us to keep the presses running and the overhead low.

Many of these books, particularly the paper editions that can be bought in every drug and stationery store and even in automatic vending machines, are not usually works of scholarship nor can they be classed exactly as literature.

They are commercial products
in a mass production medium.

The plethora of detective stories,
crime novels, all of a kind, written often in harsh language unusual among decent people, forces upon us the problem of how to keep them from young children.

THE SEX stories are atrocities of the printed word. I fear I am as guilty as President Eisenhower of reading detective stories occasionally.

I heard a publisher recently say
in an awed voice that no book should be burned. I immediately thought of my vast collection of books on China.

Unfortunately for my peace of mind, I purchase every book that comes on the market dealing with China.

During the past 20 years, most of them have been badly done,
journalistic efforts of a propaga-ndistic nature. As I weed them out,
I put them in the attic of a garage.

My son uses part of that attic
for other purposes and he has now issued an ultimatum that my weeded-out books are encroaching on his domain.

SO I HAVE been going through this stuff to see what I can contribute to a small library.

Some of these books I would not pass on to a blind man. So what shall I do with them?

Of course, I shall use them as wastepaper to help build the fire
in my barbecue.

In some of them, there is not a word of truth and their only value is as paper.

I recently tried to sell a lot of this stuff and piles of old magazines and newspapers to a junk dealer. He would not touch them unless I paid him to cart them away. He said the price of wastepaper was so low that it would not pay gasoline charges.

I did not investigate. Maybe he was trying to get a couple of dollars out of me, which I could use for cigars to better purpose.

So, some day I shall make a bonfire of all this stuff, including some of my own ancient manuscripts which represent hours of conceit and feeding the ego.

PERHAPS I shall not make a bonfire, but bury the stuff in the woods to let nature take its course.
My farmer, however, tells me that paper, printed or unprinted, does not make a fertilizer.

The great excitement over book
burning is a fraud.

Government departments and other large organizations use a shredding machine to cut up useless papers. Is it more moral to shred than to burn?

I wonder what Doubleday has done with the withdrawn 5,000
copies of Jowitt's book on Alger Hiss? Did they shred or burn the copies? Or are they keeping them as a monument to bad judgment?

Taming Atom For Industry

By THOMAS R. HENRY

There are approximately 30 kinds of reactors for the possible production of atomic energy for use in industry.

Of these six seem to offer some practical approach.

This is the opinion of Dr. Walter
H. Zinn, director of the Argonne
National Laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission at the University of Chicago.

First is an atomic furnace, cooled by helium gas, using as a fuel natural uranium, slightly enriched with the radioactive U-235 imbedded in graphite. There are no insurmountable obstacles to the construction of such a reactor, Dr.
Zinn says.

Because of its large size and relatively poor heat removal it does not appear possible, however, to generate electricity from such a machine.

Second is the sodium-cooled reactor, in which, also, partially enriched uranium is used as a fuel.
It has the advantage of being operated at a very high temperature.
Specialized metals are required.
No efforts have been made to construct such a reactor on a large scale. Cost estimates are largely guesses.

The third is a water-cooled reactor using heavy water in the place of graphite. It also will require partially enriched natural uranium.

Fourth is a reactor cooled with heavy water and also using heavy water in the place of graphite. Under any circumstances heavy water is extremely expensive. It must be used in the form of steam,
which involves considerable waste.

Fifth is a reactor cooled with ordinary water, also using enriched uranium. This type experimentally has shown considerable promise,
but many problems remain and when complete success can be attained is quite questionable.

Sixth is a fast neutron reactor
which will breed the artificial fissionable element plutonium from the ordinary uranium used as a fuel.

This is the type most favored

by industrial engineers who have studied the problem.

The engineering problems, Dr.
Zinn said, are truly formidable. If they can be solved, a reactor of superior performance can be attained, but when success can be reached is not predictable.

Says City Ordinance Needed

The News: Your reporting of the attitude of the merchants regarding the presence of the street carnival on Broadway brings up a subject that gets kicked around every year. I might add to the detriment of the downtown merchants and the town in general.

Apparently there was only one merchant on Broadway who knew about it in advance (the one that gave approval). The rest weren't consulted. The mayor gave his OK over the objections of the various department heads, then he went off to Canada on a fishing trip.
The safety service director is left holding the bag.

This certainly should be sufficient evidence of the need for an ordinance prohibiting the use of city streets for such purposes in the future.

The fact that the Legion is a fine organization and needs money certainly isn't justification for such a permit. If it is, then every service, civil, social and religious group in town should be granted the same permission. Outlawing the practice by ordinance certainly would eliminate a frequent downtown nuisance.

Operation Barbecue

President Eisenhower is in his first real hot water. Let no one say he has completed six months in the White House without serious national dissension.

With the country gone overboard on glamorized barbecues, Ike has come out for a simple,
old-fashioned down-to-earth outdoor fire devoid of frills if what you want is a good barbecued steak.

Nothing done in his administration has caused so many arguments. The Fancy Dan barbecue cult has gone over to the Democrats in a body crying, "Yo! can't do this to us!" This is the era of de luxe outdoor cooking.

Lawns from coast to coast gleam with smart streamlined stainless steel and white enamel
grills containing, it seems to us, whitewall tires,
airbrakes and even power-steering.

Over these elaborate contraptions preside millions of party-throwers in special livery.

Only pedigreed charcoal and kindling wood from formal gardens are used by the elite outdoor cooks.

There are monthly changes in the models of utensils. The latest paraphernalia includes para-sols.

Fun is fun and everything was going great when Ike came out with this recipe: "Build a fire on the ground, Indian fashion."

"Let the charcoal get flaming hot. Chuck in a steak four inches thick. Nudge it a few times.
Take it out after 30 minutes."

Not a glamor gadget anywhere!
No vehicle suggesting a cross between a range, a perambulator and a magician's carnival setup!

No glitter, no gleam, no touch of Hollywood,
Bar Harbor, Newport or Meadowbrook! And no confusing a barbecue with a society wedding,
a yacht launching or a Roman orgy.

It split the country into two camps. (As of presstime there is no telling how many thousand pounds of steak have been ruined in the effort to prove Ike right or wrong.)

"Is he cooking steak or burning up his golf bag!" exclaim the glamor barbecue addicts,
while from the other camp comes, "Ike is right.
A couple of bags of charcoal and a slight hole
in the ground will do everything."

We tried the President's barbecue plan. Results were not too good. First of all we burned up a large part of the lawn and almost started a forest fire.

"Build it Indian fashion," Ike had said.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Remember the old Nazi "tourists" who turned out to be plain clothes intelligence officers with ubiquitous little cameras photographing crossroads, fortifications, installations and troop barracks all over Europe?

Well, those "tourists" have Communist cousins.

At the moment these latter-day travel agents are photographing, among other strange military fauna in North Africa, nothing less than our atomic bomb vaults.

It's no secret that we're storing A-bombs all over Europe. Early in June, Gordon Dean, then chairman of our Atomic Energy Commission, told a House Appropriations Committee that we're making atomic weapons so fast we have no place to store them in the U.S.

THIS IS known all over Europe, which is fine, for it instills respect for us, as does the fact that we're catching them all along the aerial defense stretched in front of the Soviet Union.

At our North African bases these bombs are buried in vaults which have sort of re-inforced "quonset hut" roofs.

We have 32 of these finished or about to be completed at the French Morocco air base in Ben Gurir. Anyone can walk around these vaults, and French workers have been observed by anti-Communist union men photographing the strange looking huts.

Most fantastic of all is the word in labor circles here, which can be corroborated by American construction engineers, that the locks on these vaults are being made in England and are being hooked up electrically by French workers at the African bases.

NO ONE doubts the honesty or loyalty of most of these English and French technicians, but they have not been subjected to a security check or to surveillance by British, French or American security officers. The foreign workers would consider that "repugnant," as would their unions.

The French electrical unions for the most part are tied up with the Communist-run CGT (the big French labor federation), and there's just no telling whether or not Communist sympathizers, party specialists or actual apparatus workers have been slipped into this work of locking our atomic bomb vaults.

This we know: At the end of last March the Parisian police, acting under the orders of the Paris Military Tribunal, raided the CGT headquarters.

THE CGT HAD been calling on its members to sabotage the manufacture of arms and stall their shipment to Indo-China. At the same time, the CGT had attempted to disaffect the French army stationed in North Africa.

This was done through Communist agents inside the North African forces.

The CGT has powerful forces in North Africa, for example, 5,000 gas and electric workers called a 24-hour strike in Algeria. A week later the railway men struck for a day. Token strikes swept North Africa — pulling out even hospital workers.

As recently as June 6, government workers for the sixth time in three months walked out during what they called a "Day of Struggle."

Our own Senate sub-committee on Internal Security dispatched special investigators to the French bases.

THEY SAW Communist activity, but could not get anyone to

CARNIVAL

By Turner

"Are you gonna step to the rear of the bus, or do I have to start suddenly?"

Without friendly witnesses willing to fly to Washington, no hearings could be held. So, though we know of this infiltration, there's little we can do.

There's some talk now of a new senatorial probe of the overseas construction program.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who looked into the Korean munitions shortage so effectively, is reported urging Sen. Styles Bridges to get the Senate Appropriations Committee to again investigate our overseas construction program.

Nothing could be more important than an investigation of all our bases — on this continent as well as North Africa.

Just consider this. Most of our bases have been built by labor supplied by the CGT — and the CGT's leaders are either in jail or hiding from the French Security Police. Alain LeLeap, the CGT general secretary, is in prison. Another CGT leader, Benoit Frachon, is in hiding or in Moscow.

WHEN This Communist labor federation held its 19th convention here early in June, the gathering heard a recorded speech by Frachon which virtually urged them to revolt against the government.

This federation is being fought by the Confederation of Christian Working People and the Force Ouvriere (Third Force). But they're not making much of a dent.

Unless there is a world outcry, our defenses will continue to be built by unions which are, in effect, fronts for the enemy's apparatus.

"Little Blowhard"

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Little Blowhard," the pet in our family, is 4 years old and at last is beginning to talk.

"Clankety clank" were his first words, and now he says them over and over and over. We would just as soon his vocabulary gets no larger, and actually would prefer for him to forget what he has already learned.

Baby talk is bad enough in human infants. In mechanical babies it is sometimes more than a fellow feels able to put up with.

And that's what "Little Blowhard" is—a mechanical baby. He is only our air conditioning machine. But, as pampered cats and dogs sometimes come to believe they are human beings, so it is with "Little Blowhard."

No one has bothered to tell him he isn't a person, and certainly he acts more and more like a person as he gets older. One of the big differences between machines and people is that you are supposed to be able to predict better what machines will do.

Tested by this standard, "Little Blowhard" has moved over and joined the human race. No one can tell for sure what he will do next. He has a personality all of his own—stubborn and prideful—and like most children he responds to praise more quickly than to punishment.

For eight months of the year "Little Blowhard" dozes lazily and uselessly in his window corner, careless of mankind. He is strictly a hot weather fighter.

In June he begins to huff and puff, warming up for his battle against the summer heat. By July his me'at is in fine fettle, and he is the king of what we call our "keep cool room."

"Blow, Little Blowhard," says my wife, Frances, and he begins to purr softly.

"Oh, come now you can do better than that," Frances coaxes. And so, put upon his mettle, "Little Blowhard" blows and blows, until we have a semi-Arctic gale in the room.

It is silly, I suppose, for a man to be jealous of a machine. But "Little Blowhard" will do anything for my wife, absolutely nothing for me. If I turn him off, he keeps blowing cold air. If I turn him on, he sulks in silence, sneering up at me through his little brown ventilator as if to say, "Look at who wants to be air conditioned now! You certainly meet all kinds in this type of work."

Naturally, this burns me up. But what is even more galling than his disdain for me is the way he shows off for neighbors. All one has to do is pat him on his little brown head and say, "Well, well, how's 'Little Blowhard' today?"—and the vain little smart alec will blow out a fuse trying to create a cold wave.

He blew out two fuses that way in one evening last week, bragging to neighbors. The next day he wouldn't even take a deep breath for me. I got so mad I hauled off and kicked him, and Frances came in and caught me.

"You do that just one more time, Rover," she said, "and you may force me to decide between keeping you or 'Little Blowhard.' If you do, you know what the choice will be—in this weather."

The other evening Frances and I sat in "the keep cool room" and talked about the possibility of retiring to Florida in the far, far future. I asked her whether, when the time came, she would want to take "Little Blowhard" along.

"I will if he behaves himself," she said loudly. "My, isn't it getting a bit warm in here?"

The soft mechanical purring sound in the corner immediately changed to a frantic, "clankety clank!"

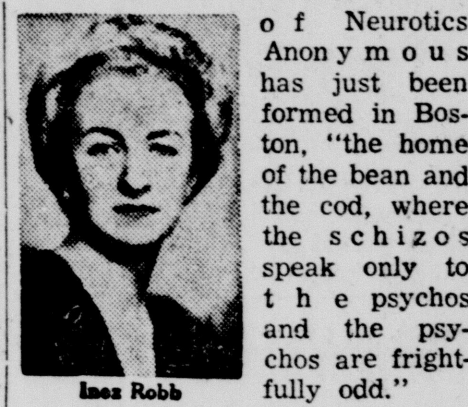

A few minutes later I looked over at "Little Blowhard" and saw an icicle forming on his ventilator. Then the lights went out. The hard-working little rascal had blown another fuse trying to show what a good boy he was.

For The Psychos

By INEZ ROBB

The Athens of America has just made another monumental contribution to the advancement of national welfare. The first chapter of Neurotics Anonymous has just been formed in Boston, "the home of the bean and the cod, where the schizos speak only to the psychos and the psychos are frightfully odd."

It is almost too much for the human mind to comprehend in one sitting what this can mean to the United States: Just try to visualize what it would portend for peace and progress if all the neurotics could really be persuaded to get together and annoy each other instead of innocent bystanders, like you and me!

And, by the way, what do you mean "me"?

PRESUMABLY, Neurotics Anonymous will work on the same principal as Alcoholics Anonymous. In the latter organization, when a reformed character feels the overpowering urge for a tipple, he simply picks up the phone, calls up another retired lost weekend and says "Come quick, I'm on the brink of a drink."

The party of the second part then responds with the speed of a hot-rod on a Los Angeles highway, and together the two fight it out with demon rum.

So presumably when a neurotic feels he is about to flip his lid, he calls NA headquarters and screams "Come running. My lid is on the skid."

This, of course, will bring proper reinforcements to help reintegrate the old personality and bind up its split with a little scotch tape, or anyway with a little scotch.

THE ONLY amazing thing about Neurotics Anonymous is that it has been so long in coming to public fruition. It is estimated that everyone in the United States is neurotic save thee and me, and sometimes—if it's the truth you want—there's as nutty as a pecan pie.

A good working rule of thumb, when one is trying to separate the sheep from the manic depressive goats, is to remember that a neurotic is the man or woman who has just left the room.

An individual today who doesn't boast a psychosis just doesn't coast.

Certainly he is a dead-head socially and conversationally. What, pray, does a man have to talk about if he isn't being psychoanalyzed?

CONVERSATION among the psychos may be jittery but it's far from dead. Not since the introduction of bigro and the pyramid clubs has another organization promised to sweep the nation like Neurotics Anonymous, although—to tell the truth—I have never yet known one who was willing to be anonymous.

If there is one thing the true neurotic loves better than another, it is to air his libido in public. And the word "anonymous" may take on surprising meanings when the new organization gets going, just like "democracy" and "peace-loving" in the mouths of the Communies.

All in all, there are vast possibilities for good in this organization. Speed the day when the neurotics sit down and sublimate together!

Using Cheap Materials Unwise Way To Save Money On Home

How to save money by spending it is something every householder has to learn by experience.

To be penny wise and dollar foolish in making repairs around your house — or in building a new house — just use cheaper materials. You can save money for the time being by using "just-as-good" substitutes, but when the time comes for replacement you'll be paying a double labor bill for something that could have been done right in the first place.

In these days, labor bills are nothing to be sneezed at. Do it yourself, figure your own time and you can understand why.

This applies to almost any material used in or around a house — paint, roofing, plumbing — even the vital drain pipes between your house and sewer, septic tank or cesspool — pipes that protect your family's health by keeping sewer water out of your drinking water.

For example, to have a trench dug from your house to the sewer costs on the average, say, around $5 per cubic yard for excavation and refilling. This figure is based on a typical cost of $4 per yard plus a 20 per cent markup. It represents a lot of digging for the amount of pipe to be laid.

The distance from your house to the sewer will determine this labor cost. Supposing it is only 30 feet, and you need a trench 6 feet deep and 2½ feet wide. Your labor bill on this score will run over $80.

Vigilance Can Avert Accidents To Children

A great majority of the 5,500 fatal accidents to young children yearly in the United States and Canada could be averted if parents and others in charge of children were more vigilant in watching over them, the experience of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company indicates.

This was shown through a study of the circumstances of such accidents to children insured with the company. Fatal accidents currently account for one-fourth of all deaths among children at ages one to four in the two countries, according to the Metropolitan's statistics, and take a far higher toll than any other cause of death.

Among the insured children, motor vehicle accidents were the leading cause of fatal injury, accounting for more than a third of the total. In many instances the fatal accidents happened while the children were playing in their own driveways or yards.

Conflagrations and burns by other means ranked second in frequency as a cause of fatal accidents. In the United States, a majority of the children who lost their lives this way were trapped in burning buildings; in Canada, burns other than conflagrations accounted for the larger part of the death toll. These other mishaps resulted from the child playing with matches, upsetting or falling into hot liquids, having its clothing ignited by playing too close to an open fire, and similar incidents.

Drownings, falls, and the swallowing of poisons each accounted for a significant proportion of the fatalities in the insurance experience.

Attractive Accessories For Home Sell Cheaply

You won't have to strain your budget to acquire some attractive room accessories that will make all of your home furnishings more colorful. It's mainly a question of using your imagination.

The first thing to do is to decide what kind of accessories your home needs, according to the July issue of a leading magazine. Then, shop around and see what you can find. For example, if you see a lamp that looks like it would be fine for the living room, don't worry about the color.

If the color doesn't match, but the price is right, a coat of paint will make it fit in perfectly with the furnishings you have. You can buy dozens of interesting accessories such as wastepaper baskets, flower stands, or shelves, for less than $5.

GLAMOROUS modern styling makes this compact house appear much larger than the 960 square feet covered by the house itself. Economy of construction is envisioned by a plain rectangular perimeter and elimination of basement. Extra storage is provided in garage and garden storage in outdoor closet supporting the porch roof. Three bedroom capacity is made possible by a folding partition to close off open-planned study when desired. Extra ceiling height for living room creates an interesting break in the roof line. Large window areas in all rooms are a feature. Heater room is off the kitchen. This is Plan H-159-P by the Homograft Co., 11711 East Eight Mile Road, East Detroit, Mich.

New Fixtures Exploit Beauty For Bathroom

The American homemaker also is a decorator in her own right. Any product for the home which wins her approval must pass the test of good styling, as well as functional efficiency.

Manufacturers exhibiting at the National Association of Home Builders annual exposition in Chicago in January showed a keen awareness of these facts, particularly those presenting the latest in bathroom fixtures, fittings and accessories, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Beauty in the bathroom is achieved by careful planning to assure harmonious blending of fixtures, accessories, floor and wall coverings, heating and lighting units, from a design standpoint.

Latest - type bathroom fixtures are available in a wide range of styles, sizes and colors. The vanity or countertop lavatory, highly popular with homeowners, can be had in either prefabricated or custom-built models to fit into the small as well as the large bathroom.

The vanity lavatory gives to the bathroom the added utility of a dressing room and is being installed increasingly by those remodeling large bathrooms in older-type homes. One model now features cabinet doors without hardware which open with a nudge of the knee, an obvious advantage and convenience when hands are soapy.

The flanking countertops are acid and alcohol resistant and there is plenty of toe space underneath, storage space within.

A modernized bathroom built around a vanity lavatory and featuring the newest in fixtures, chromium-plated brass fittings and accessories can easily become the showplace of any home.

Wise Home-Hunter Carries Flashlight

If you're going house hunting, take a flashlight with you.

Many places in a house where inspection can be most revealing are poorly lighted and the prospective purchaser is under a severe handicap if a flashlight isn't part of his equipment.

A flashlight is particularly handy in inspecting the roof. This is true because a good way to get an idea of a roof's condition is to look at the underside of the roof deck. Search for wet spots, discoloration, and other evidence of water penetration.

Because many shortcomings can be remedied relatively simply, a house can be a good buy even if it has some defects. A leaky roof, for instance, can be improved with fire-resistant asphalt shingles, which usually can be laid on top of the old material. This procedure is economical and retains the insulation value of the old roofing.

Use Of Right Size Nails Is Important

Nails are important in applying roofing material. If nails are the wrong kind or the wrong length the roofing will not be held securely on the roof deck and can be more easily damaged by wind. For asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing material for homes, barbed nails with large heads are recommended. They must be long enough to penetrate the roofing material and then go  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch into the deck sheathing. For reroofing, when the economical method of applying asphalt shingles on top of the wornout roofing is used, nails should be 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches long.

If you want to use a paint roller for floors, simply attach the roller handle to a broomstick.

Drill Holes In Rock With New Tool

New tools with cutting edges of cemented tungsten carbide, the hardest metal devised by man, are simplifying many jobs. For household use these edges last virtually indefinitely. For industrial use they have been found to be second only to the cutting edge of a diamond.

Spiral drills with carbide tips bore through concrete, brick or stone almost as easily as most drills go through wood. This is a big advantage for the householder faced with a task of installing a bolted down washing machine, stationary tubs and other equipment in a basement laundry. Pains-taking chiseling through concrete with a star drill is eliminated. The spiral design of carbide drills removes dust. Drill sizes from 3-16 to a half-inch fit power drills with quarter-inch chucks.

One of the handiest uses for the drills is in the installation of furring strips on foundation walls. Numerous holes for wooden plugs to hold nails or screws are readily drilled. The installation of radio or television antennae on brick chimneys or trellises on brick or stone walls is greatly simplified.

The extremely hard carbide was developed by the Carbide department of General Electric originally for the drawing of wire. It proved so successful that it is now manufactured for various tool manufacturers and is used for the cut-

Exhaust Fans Save Damage To Furnishings

More and more new and remodeled homes are planned to have built-in wall or ceiling exhaust fans in kitchens, bathrooms, laundry, utility and recreation rooms. And for good reasons.

These kitchen-type fans expel excess cooking heat, making the kitchen a more pleasant place to work, and get rid of odors, steam, smoke and grease. The savings in cleaning bills resulting from the control of grease-laden air are recommendation enough for the fans.

Controlling the moisture given off by shower baths, which research has found amounts to about a half-pound of water vapor per average bath, is also important from the standpoint of protecting the house and furnishings from moisture damage, particularly during the summer when the humidity in home is high.

Installation of these fans is relatively simple, especially when the home is being built or remodeled. But there is nothing to prevent the home handyman from installing them at any time.

Kitchen fans are available in three different types, one of which will suit the needs of nearly any kitchen layout. The window model is generally least expensive and is very simple to install. It should not be used, however, if there is only one window in the kitchen, since it would not be wise to block that source of illumination.

The wall-model fan is advantageous in that it can be placed close to the kitchen range, and the ceiling edges of circular saws, paint scrapers, scribers, knife sharpeners and other devices.

Shower Equipment Has Many Varieties

Dollar for dollar, it is doubtful if there is any piece of equipment in the home that provides so much zestful pleasure as the shower bath says the Plumbing & Heating Industries Bureau.

Time was when the shower bath was used mostly in the summer. In recent years, however, millions have adopted the shower as a year-around method of bathing, the bureau points out.

A full line of new and improved equipment made of high quality chromium plated brass is now available. Equipment ranges from a variety of attachments for showers over the bathtub and shower heads in different sizes and distinctive features to shower cabinets from the modest cottage type to the handsome cabinet with a glass door.

In fact, says the bureau, it is doubtful if any other plumbing item offers such a wide variety of models for the choice of the builder.

It is because of this range in styles and sizes that the builder will find it advisable to consult with an experienced plumbing dealer or visit an up-to-date display room before buying shower equipment. As with all plumbing equipment installation is an important factor in the satisfactory operation of the shower whether it is over a bathtub or in a separate cabinet.

EXPENSIVE OVERLOADS

A study of home electrical wiring shows that a 3 per cent loss in voltage due to overloaded wiring results in a 10 per cent reduction in heat from an electric iron and a 17 per cent loss of light from a 100-watt bulb.

Tests have shown that an average shower bath adds between  $\frac{1}{4}$  and  $\frac{1}{2}$  pound of water vapor to the moisture content of a home. If you sing in the shower and take more time, more vapor is added. Four tub baths in a row will add an equal amount of moisture to the air. A closed bathroom door and windows opened immediately after baths will clear the air and safeguard paint.

EXHAUST FANS in kitchens and bathrooms carry off grease, steam and odors that might otherwise damage home and furnishings.

ing model is particularly efficient in a kitchen with an unusual layout, because it will reach all corners of the room.

Since bathrooms generally have inadequate window area, a small exhaust fan installed in the wall or ceiling and vented to the outside or the attic can help keep the air fresh and clean.

Properly locating an exhaust fan in the kitchen or bathroom is essential to good ventilation performance. Most bathrooms being quite small, location of the fan is not too great a problem. What's important is to place the fan so that the air entering sweeps from the door across the length of the room. In this way all parts of the room are reached.

In installing kitchen fans, a number of factors should be considered to obtain satisfactory performance. Most important, the fan

Built-In Storage Units Easy Way To Gain Space In Home

Is your home good enough?

The housing experts say there is a 50-50 chance it isn't. And most of them agree that the most common failing of many new homes and most older homes is inadequate or inconvenient storage space.

That's not hard to demonstrate. A leading building industry trade journal reports that a housewife's number one need today is built-in storage area. There are 47,000,000 dwelling units in this country, says another national publication, and half or more of them are obsolete judged by today's design standards.

In an older home there are often plenty of cubic feet in an attic or basement but this area is inefficient, old-fashioned storage. Even the standard closet is out of date. All you can do there is hang clothes and stack things on the floor.

New Houses Smaller

What's more, today's new house has been getting smaller and that adds to the problem of space. In 1940, most houses had at least five rooms. Today, the average new house has four rooms and there are 12 million more children under 14 jammed into the nation's housing plant than there were then.

Any way you look at it, most people need more places and better places to put things. Designers agree that large house or small, the most logical solution is built-in storage. This is the most outstanding trend underlying the uncluttered "feel" of a well-planned modern home.

This kind of storage ranges from carefully planned kitchen cabinets to an entire storage wall in the living room. The primary construction material is fir plywood. Even where a more exotic wood is used for facing surfaces, fir plywood is the universal material for the structural parts.

More Livability

Built-ins multiply living space in a small home, efficiently substituting for old-fashioned bureaus, buffets, sideboards and cabinet furniture. In a larger home, built-ins account for a substantial degree of livability and comfort.

Today's most popular new homes are marked by the trend in modern design to open-planning — the new "freedom for living" — obtained with partial walls, free-standing island storage units and storage wall partitions.

In an older home, greater livability can be achieved through better organization of existing storage space and addition of strategically located, compact built-in storage units. Usually these so-called built-ins are placed against existing walls. The answer in such homes to modernization or remodeling problems is often the installation of the right built-in conveniences. It's a matter of getting the old house to work for you instead of against you.

Financing Easy

When built-in storage is a permanent improvement in the house, financing is easy through FHA. Improvements up to $3.50 can be repaid over a three-year period and you don't need a down payment. Lumber dealers who often function like a department store for the homeowner offer optional methods of financing.

Then there is the newly recognized open-end mortgage which permits borrowing under the existing mortgage as your equity in the house increases. This means you simply extend your payment period in financing improvements.

The open-end system is not yet universally accepted but if you are considering substantial home improvements or financing the purchase of a house, it will pay you to find out about its advantages.

Fix-It Forum

Q—I have been told that climbing on a roof to look for leaks is a bad idea. Is that true?

A—Yes. Walking on an old roof to look for leaks often results in starting them. A better way to inspect a roof is to examine the underside of the roof deck after a rain, searching for wet spots or discoloration. If you find leaks in an old weathered roof, it's an indication that reroofing is needed. Patching an old roof is almost always futile. In reroofing, asphalt shingles generally are applied on top of the old material. This saves the expense of tearing off the worn roofing and its insulation value is retained.

Quizzing The Gardener

Q—The question of when to prune flowering shrubs is a debatable one in our home. When should forsythia, lilacs, rhododendrons and azaleas be pruned?

A—Theoretically, shrubs should be pruned soon after their flowers have faded. If the shrubs are large and old then remove one third of the oldest branches or canes each year; otherwise remove only the faded flowers. Little or no pruning of rhododendron and azaleas is necessary. Remove only broken or straggly growth.

Q—How deep should a bird bath be? The birds avoid our fairly large six-inch-deep basin, yet patronize a small one in the neighbor's yard.

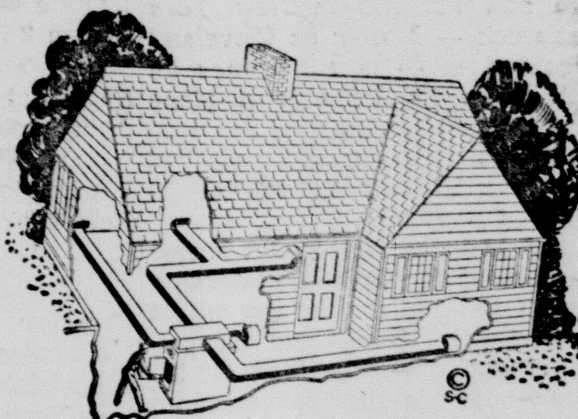

A—Most birds do not like to swim; they love to stand and splatter. The maximum depth for the water in a good bird bath is between two and three inches.

Double Win By Red Sox Drops Indians Into 4th Place

Cleveland Now 11 Games Back

Hegan Hurts Finger In First Contest

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lou Boudreau's Boston Red Sox yesterday copped a doubleheader here 2-0 and 7-5, and climbed past Cleveland into third place and shoved the Indians to fourth, lowest rung for the Tribe in two months.

Trailing New York by 11 games, the Indians would have to gain one game on the Yankees in every six they have left — and even Manager Al Lopez should be willing to concede the near-impossibility of that.

The three-game Yankee series here and the trio in New York next week — insofar as Cleveland is concerned — now becomes an obstacle in regaining third place from the fast-moving Red Sox who have won five straight, nine of their last 10 and 12 out of 18 against Cleveland.

Lefty Maurice McDermott hurled the shutout for Boston yesterday, holding the Indians to one hit in the first eight innings and accounting for one run by leading off the eighth with his first homer, Sam White broke up a scoreless pitching duel between McDermott and Early Wynn by leading off the seventh with a home run.

A single by rookie outfielder Al Smith spoiled McDermott's bid for a no-hitter in the fourth inning.

McDermott walked eight men yesterday, and when his first two pitches in the ninth were balls, Manager Lou Boudreau sent Ellis Kinder in to finish the game. Kinder put the last three down in order.

Kinder also wrapped up the second game, entering it with two out and the tying runs on base in the ninth, and getting pinch hitter Bob Lemon to fly out.

George Kell clinched the victory in the eighth inning with a three-run homer off Bob Hooper. Boston scored four runs in the first frame on Kell's double, two walks and two singles.

The Indians burst out of a string of 22 scoreless innings by scoring five runs in the seventh. George Strickland singled twice in that frame, driving in the last run with a bunt.

Jim Hegan split his right index finger on a foul tip in the first game. Trainer Wally Bock said the catcher may miss the first game with the Yankees tomorrow night.

Redlegs Look Like Champs — And Chumps

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Ed Lopat and Vic Raschi, a couple of seasoned veterans who count World Series pay as regular income, have straightened out the New York Yankees.

For the first time in weeks, there is no frantic patter of pursuit. Chicago, whipped twice yesterday, is six games back. Cleveland's disastrous collapse has dumped the Indians into fourth place, 11 games behind. Boston, working on a six-game winning streak, is third but still a distance 10 1/2 games to the rear.

There is no change in the National League pattern after three split double-headers with Brooklyn still holding a three-game lead over Milwaukee. Philadelphia remains third, six games behind the Dodgers and the New York Giants, who took over fourth place Saturday, hold a one percentage point edge on St. Louis.

Big news of the day in the National was that somebody finally scored a run on Allan Worthington, the Giants rookie hotshot. Milwaukee broke the right-hander's scoreless string after 19 2-3 innings and beat him 2-1 in the second game of a double-header, called after five innings because of darkness. New York had won the first game 7-5 on Hank Thompson's two-run homer in the ninth.

The story in the American League was the twin job the Yankees did on the White Sox 6-2 and 3-0 before 54,215, an all-time Comiskey Park record crowd. Lopat copped the first to boost his season record.

Kluszewski smashed his 27th and 28th homers in the fourth and ninth innings to tie Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee for the home run leadership of the National League. Klus's 27th homer was the 111th, breaking the club's 1938 mark of 110.

Klu's first homer opened the scoring in the first game and the Redlegs added run No. 2 in the fifth on singles by Roy McMillan, Baczewski and Bobby Adams.

Ted opened the ninth with his second distance drive and Jim Greengrass scored when he walked, stole second, went to third on a ground-out and waltzed home when Cox failed to cover third as catcher Roy Campanella tried a pickoff.

Cincinnati moved into a 5-0 lead in the first two innings of the second game, but fell apart in the later stages. The Rhinelanders got three runs in the first inning on an error by Gil Hodges, singles by Adams and Kluszewski and Willard Marshall's triple. A double by McMillan, triple by Adams and single by Gus Bell accounted for the other two Redleg runs.

The Dodgers nipped Bob Kelly for two runs in the fifth when Jackie Robinson and Hodges doubled and Rube Walker singled.

The Redleg fielding virtually disintegrated in the eighth as the Dodgers sent five runs across the plate. Bud Podbielan replaced Kelly, and Cox walked and Walker doubled. Campanella, batting for Jim Hughes, grounded to McMillan, who threw wildly to first. Cox and Walker scored and Campy went to second on the error. Junior Gilliam beat out a bunt and Pee-wee Reese walked to fill the sacks. Joe Nuxhall replaced Podbielan. Duke Snider hit to Adams, who threw wildly to the plate, for another two-run error. Snider scored the fifth Brooklyn run of the inning on a fly.

Yankees Continue Pennant Bid; Pursuit Lags Far To The Rear

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Ed Lopat and Vic Raschi, a couple of seasoned veterans who count World Series pay as regular income, have straightened out the New York Yankees.

For the first time in weeks, there is no frantic patter of pursuit. Chicago, whipped twice yesterday, is six games back. Cleveland's disastrous collapse has dumped the Indians into fourth place, 11 games behind. Boston, working on a six-game winning streak, is third but still a distance 10 1/2 games to the rear.

There is no change in the National League pattern after three split double-headers with Brooklyn still holding a three-game lead over Milwaukee. Philadelphia remains third, six games behind the Dodgers and the New York Giants, who took over fourth place Saturday, hold a one percentage point edge on St. Louis.

Big news of the day in the National was that somebody finally scored a run on Allan Worthington, the Giants rookie hotshot. Milwaukee broke the right-hander's scoreless string after 19 2-3 innings and beat him 2-1 in the second game of a double-header, called after five innings because of darkness. New York had won the first game 7-5 on Hank Thompson's two-run homer in the ninth.

The story in the American League was the twin job the Yankees did on the White Sox 6-2 and 3-0 before 54,215, an all-time Comiskey Park record crowd. Lopat copped the first to boost his season record.

Kluszewski smashed his 27th and 28th homers in the fourth and ninth innings to tie Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee for the home run leadership of the National League. Klus's 27th homer was the 111th, breaking the club's 1938 mark of 110.

Klu's first homer opened the scoring in the first game and the Redlegs added run No. 2 in the fifth on singles by Roy McMillan, Baczewski and Bobby Adams.

Ted opened the ninth with his second distance drive and Jim Greengrass scored when he walked, stole second, went to third on a ground-out and waltzed home when Cox failed to cover third as catcher Roy Campanella tried a pickoff.

Cincinnati moved into a 5-0 lead in the first two innings of the second game, but fell apart in the later stages. The Rhinelanders got three runs in the first inning on an error by Gil Hodges, singles by Adams and Kluszewski and Willard Marshall's triple. A double by McMillan, triple by Adams and single by Gus Bell accounted for the other two Redleg runs.

The Dodgers nipped Bob Kelly for two runs in the fifth when Jackie Robinson and Hodges doubled and Rube Walker singled.

The Redleg fielding virtually disintegrated in the eighth as the Dodgers sent five runs across the plate. Bud Podbielan replaced Kelly, and Cox walked and Walker doubled. Campanella, batting for Jim Hughes, grounded to McMillan, who threw wildly to first. Cox and Walker scored and Campy went to second on the error. Junior Gilliam beat out a bunt and Pee-wee Reese walked to fill the sacks. Joe Nuxhall replaced Podbielan. Duke Snider hit to Adams, who threw wildly to the plate, for another two-run error. Snider scored the fifth Brooklyn run of the inning on a fly.

Warren Driver Wins Canfield Race

Bud Boone of Warren, piloted his Chevrolet with a GMC motor to victory in the Midseason Championship race at the Canfield Speedway Saturday night. Boone, starting in third position in the 24-car field zoomed on to the front on the third lap and stayed there to capture the 50-lap trophy event before 4,673 fans.

Jimmy Romine of Youngstown, came from 13th position to place second, MacClingan placed 3rd, George Schimley of Warren 4th, a defending National Champion Mike Klapak of Warren came from 16th to finish 5th.

Bob Greer of Hubbard put on one of the most outstanding driving exhibitions ever seen at the Canfield oval in the 25 lap consolation event. The hood on Greer's car opened during the fourth lap, but the Hubbard pilot didn't let up and although only able to see around the corner of the obstruction, came on to place fourth.

No time trials were held because of the early rain Saturday night. Instead positions were awarded according to drivers' point standings.

The stock cars will be back in action Wednesday night at the Canfield oval, and will be the only races this week, as the Mahoning County horse show takes over the Fairgrounds on Saturday night. The eight event program on Wednesday includes the popular Hard Top Race.

POLO GAME CANCELLED

The Salem Polo Club's scheduled game with Darlington, Pa. Saturday was cancelled because of the heavy rain. There was no contest scheduled for Sunday. Salem is scheduled to play Cleveland there this Sunday.

Parking's a pushover with Ford Power-Steering

It's a brand new Ford "Worth More" feature—and it costs less than any other power steering in its field!

With one finger, while the car is standing still, a woman can turn the steering wheel. No longer will rough road ruts "throw you." Should ever a tire blow out, power steering assistance helps you to keep safe straight-line control.

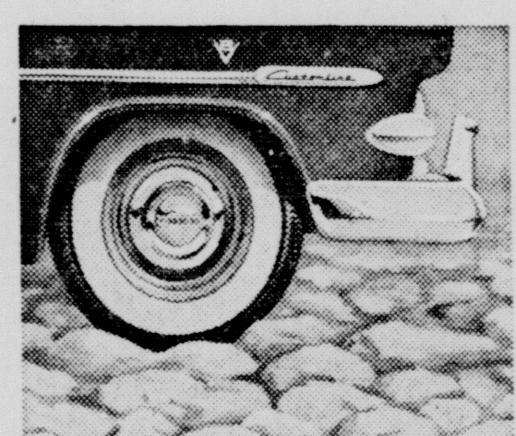

Sure! These are advantages of all power steering systems. But, Ford doesn't stop there! Ford brings you the newest, the finest, the lowest-priced power steering in its field!

Ford Power Steering has a more natural "feel" and it does up to 75% of the work. You don't have to change your driving habits radically. The steering gear ratio is the same as without power steering and the hydraulic system gives you just the right assistance when you need it.

No change in driving habits! You could drive off in a Ford with Power Steering and feel completely at ease from the start. This is because Ford Power Steering has exactly the same ratio as Ford regular steering.

"Wheel Shock" reduced! With a hydraulic "cushion" between your steering wheel and the front wheels, Ford Power Steering reduces "wheel shock" on rough roads. You enjoy a normal, safe "feel" every moment at the wheel.

Parking is a pushover... all driving is a lot easier. You can easily turn the wheel with one finger while the car is standing still. At times, up to 75% of the effort you need to steer is supplied for you by Ford Power Steering.

You're safer! Even if a front tire should blow out, Ford Power Steering gives you the "muscle" to keep control. And even if hydraulic pressure is lost (which is highly unlikely) you're right back to conventional steering.

Stengel, Richards Say Sox Still In Picture

CHICAGO (AP) — Managers Casey Stengel and Paul Richards were in agreement today: You can't count the Chicago White Sox out of the American League pennant picture despite their loss of a double-header to the New York Yankees yesterday.

Stengel was elated after 6-2 and 3-0 wins by his Yanks dropped the Sox out of any immediate leadership contention. The Chicago club, had it won both ends, would have been only two games back. Now the Sox are six games out.

"Those were big ones for us," grinned Stengel after the double victory. "We were playing our best and the pitching was tremendous."

Ed Lopat won the first game, allowing eight hits in recording his 10th victory against one loss. Vic Raschi won his seventh against four losses in the nightcap, hurling a deft two-hitter. "I've said all along that the White Sox are the team to beat," declared Casey. "And I still say it. You can't forget about them. They're going to keep playing good ball because that guy (Richards) isn't going to let them get down."

Richards and his players were disappointed over the double loss but were by no means despairing. "We've got a longer way to go," philosophized the tall manager of the Sox, "and we'll just have to get at it."

He pointed out that at one time the Sox were 13 games off the Yankee pace and that in his opinion they were capable of moving up again.

"We're a good solid ball club and I'm confident we'll hold up through the stretch. The question is: Can the Yankees?"

Ralph Branca Pitches Tigers To 13-3 Win Over Philadelphia

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Ralph Branca, who went from a 21-game winner to a no-game winner for the Brooklyn Dodgers and blew a National League pennant in the process, is trying to pick up the pieces of his shattered baseball life with the last-place Detroit Tigers.

It's quite possible, too, that in time he'll work out the jigsaw puzzle which was scrambled so badly by Giant Bobby Thomson's pennant-winning home run in the 1951 National League playoff.

At least the change of scenery—from colorful, noisy Ebbets Field to serene Briggs Stadium—should not hurt any.

But Branca will tell you in a soft, even voice he hasn't noticed any difference between playing in the two leagues (he doesn't even miss Thomson) and that the fans have treated him the same.

"Shoot," he says, "the fans here and in Brooklyn have treated me alike. Both have given me encouragement; both want to see me win."

No doubt about the Tiger fans. They cheered and applauded yesterday as Branca, making his second start for Detroit, won his first American League game by defeating the Philadelphia A's 13-3 in the first game of a double-header. Branca gave up only one earned run and seven hits.

"I felt good out there," he said. "And it sure was nice winning one again. My last victory was June 27 of last season. That's a mighty long time."

Fred Hutchinson, Tiger skipper, thinks Branca should do well with his club.

"I see no reason why he can't be a big winner for us," said Hutch. "He's an intelligent, level-headed fellow who seems to have all the equipment of a good pitcher."

Youth is on his side—he's only 27. The rest is up to him."

Branca, a 21-game winner in 1947, pitched only 11 innings for Brooklyn this year, compiling a 0-0 record. Detroit picked him up at the waiver price.

He lost his first start to St. Louis last Sunday, 3-2, but pitched good ball for Detroit after serving up two homers in the first frame. He's allowed 11 hits in 14 innings striking out 7 and walking 5.

Ohio Tennis Tourney Opens In Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Eight states and one foreign country are to be represented in this year's Ohio State tennis championship, which starts this morning.

The biggest out-of-state delegation comes from Wisconsin, which is sending five players to compete in the men's division of the Buckeye meet. Other states represented, besides Ohio, are Oklahoma, Utah, Indiana, Michigan, Florida and Kentucky.

The lone foreign player is Yves Lemaitre of Mexico City.

17-Year-Old Youth Wins Singles Crown

CLEVELAND (AP) — Seventeen-year-old John Brownlow yesterday won one title and shared in another in the 1953 Northeastern Ohio tennis championships.

Brownlow captured the singles crown by nipping defending champion Bob Nihouzen of Cuyahoga Falls, 8-6, 6-4, 7-5 in the finals. Then he teamed with Ed Dileone to take the doubles finals with a 6-2, 9-7 decision over Nihouzen and Harper Ink of Canton, the 1952 champs.

PERFECT — Dallas Lawrence of Portsmouth, Va., displays excellent form in demonstrating how he became the first pitcher in Little League history to hurl a perfect game.

Question: There are runners on first and second bases. The batter hits a grounder to the shortstop. The runner coming from second base stops in front of the shortstop, obviously trying to screen the ball. The ball does not touch the runner. What's the ruling? — Tom Kent.

Answer: If, in the judgment of the umpire, the runner intentionally tries to interfere with the shortstop's vision, even though he doesn't touch the ball, the runner is out.

Question: In the last half of the ninth inning, with the score tied, 2-2, and runners on second and third bases, the batter triples to break up the game. Do both runs count? — Leon Tanner.

Answer: Only the run by the man coming from third base counts. The batter is credited with a single.

Q. Who won the 1904 World Series? — Luke Adams.

A. There was no Series that year.

Q. What player was caught off base the most times in a major league game? — Jake Early.

A. The Giants' Benny Kauff, three times, May 26, 1916.

Q. When was baseball's first double-header played? — Allen Melton.

A. Worcester and Providence played the first twin bill, Sept. 25, 1882.

Q. Who preceded Ruth as the Yankees' right fielder? — Dan Clements.

A. Sammy Vick.

Q. Has anyone ever pitched a no-hitter in a World Series? — Wally Scott.

A. No.

Q. How many appeal plays are there? — Rick Lewis.

A. Appeal plays are infractions which the umpire is not supposed to call unless brought to his attention by the rival team. They are batting out of order, leaving a base too soon to advance on a fly ball, and failure to touch a bag while running the bases.

Q. How many All-Star Games did Lou Gehrig play in and what was his batting average? — Ry Dorish.

A. Gehrig verged .222 in six games.

Q. What is the longest major league game on record and how many pitchers were used? — Lloyd Walker.

A. The 26-inning thriller between the Braves and Dodgers in 1920 stands as the king of the marathons. Boston's Joe Oeschger and Brooklyn's Leon Cadore started and went all the way to a 1-1 tie.

Woman Bullfighter Is Wounded By Bull

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—An American woman bullfighter killed her bull in the Tijuana ring yesterday despite an 18-inch gash inflicted by the animal.

Patricia McCormick, 23-year-old bullfighter from Big Springs, Tex., was taken to a hospital for treatment after the incident. Her trainer said she would be out of action for 15 days.

The animal's horn hooked the muscle of Miss McCormick's calf, ripping upward to the knee.

Five Horses Perish As Two Barns Burn

CHICAGO (AP) — Five thoroughbred horses perished, 30 were rescued and four firemen were overcome by smoke in a spectacular fire which destroyed parts of two barns at the Hawthorne Race Track yesterday.

Charles Miller, track superintendent, estimated damage at more than $60,000. He said he could not estimate the value of the five horses which burned to death.

The two barns housed horses now racing at Arlington.

Batting practice pitcher Al Zachary of the Yankees formerly held the same job with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Muzzle-Loader Gunners Draw Beads On Targets At Lisbon

Despite the rain, a record number of 67 marksmen took part in the muzzle-loader shoot held Saturday at the Fairgrounds in one of the features of the opening of the Lisbon Sesquicentennial.

Some using old guns and others rebuilt ones, contestants were entered in the various matches from Ohio and Pennsylvania with five former national champions present.

Several highlights of the event included one woman entrant who took two seconds, Alexander Updegraff of Massillon, who competed in the pistol matches with an old cap-ball gun against modern-day equipment.

Tom Pike, Lisbon gun authority, who was general chairman, said several matches were so close they had to be judged with strings.

man and Canfield, at 10:50 p.m. Saturday.

Driver of one car, Robert J. Vasey, Jr., 51, of Hubbard, sustained abrasions of the right leg; a passenger in his auto, Elizabeth Vasey, 49, received a possible fractured spine and ribs, and contusions of the head.

The other driver, George Novitsky, 42, of Calumet, Pa., had lacerations of the forehead. All were taken to the Southside Hospital in Youngstown.

Vasey was going north on Tippecanoe Rd. and Novitsky was traveling west on Route 224 when the collision occurred, the Patrol said. Vasey was arrested for failing to yield the right of way.

Another motorist received only slight injuries when he crashed head-on into a truck on Route 14, six-tenths mile south of the Portage County line, at 5:15 p.m. Sunday.

Patrolmen said Leon Weinberg, 56, of Montclair, N.J., did not require treatment for the lacerations of both elbows he sustained when he attempted to pass another car and ran into the truck, operated by James Smith, 29, of Salem, N.J., coming in the opposite direction.

Weinberg was arrested for passing without the assured clear distance and posted a $25 bond in the Sebring mayor's court.

The crash practically demolished the auto.

The Patrol said a car driven by Beryl Gorby, 28, of Sebring and a truck operated by John Tice, 43, of Steubenville sideswiped on a curve on Route 45, four and one-half miles north of Lisbon, at 2:45 a.m. today. No one was hurt.

stormed the slopes of the twin hills at 10:30 p. m. Sunday.

About two hours later, a burst of machine-gun fire signaled the end of the Marine resistance as the Chinese overran the outposts.

The Red victory—won with staggering casualties—gave the Communists full control of a vital hill area made up of Outposts Reno, Carson and Vegas, East Berlin and Berlin.

Allied observers speculated the Reds grabbed the Berlin outposts in the belief no effort would be made to retake them with an armistice apparently imminent.

The fighting on the western sector hills was the most violent along the 150-mile front, although smaller scale but equally fierce action flared along the tense Kum-song sector in east-central Korea.

3 Drivers Fined By Lisbon Mayor

LISBON — Three motorists were fined a total of $135 and costs at hearings before Mayor Wilbur Warren over the weekend.

Robert Babash of Akron was fined $100 and costs for drunken driving after he was arrested Sunday morning by police and Benjamin Beeze of East Liverpool was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation after he was cited early Saturday morning by police.

Floyd F. Schamp of RD 3, Lisbon, was fined $10 and costs for passing without the assured clear distance ahead after he was arrested this morning by the Salem State Highway Patrol.

Correspondent Alan Winnington of the London Daily Worker said the building should be finished Thursday, but the signing probably would not be that early.

3. Gen. Mark Clark, U.N. Far East commander in Tokyo, hailed the Red go-ahead as "most encouraging," and said it "should lead to an early signing." However, he said some details remained to be worked out.

4. Peiping radio, the voice of Red China, said the Communist agreement to go ahead with truce signing preparations came after "resolute efforts by the (Red) Korean and Chinese side in the past one month."
